DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawing correction submitted June 30, 2003 has been approved.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 24,25, 27 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-9 of U. S. Patent No. 6,191,397 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: both claim a method of controlling a heating element for a resist covered wafer. Claim 24 sets forth forming a photo resist film and exposing a region of the film with light, followed by heating of the film. Claim 1 in the cited patent sets forth forming a photo resist film and exposing a plurality of regions with light followed by heat treatment (heating the substrate). Though the language is not exactly the same, all of the claimed limitations in the instant application can be found in the cited patent. Instant claim 1 also sets forth control of the temperature based on ΔT_r and predetermined interrelation between ΔT_r and the temperature of the heat source. The 397' patent also specifies this step in the last paragraph of claim 1. Claim 7 in the cited patent teaches the subject matter in instant claim 27.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application, which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 26 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The step in claim 26 is not claimed in the parent patent.
